

An Estate Agent That Listens Moving up from the South East having never been in the North West before meant we very reliant on honest local advice, having very quickly settled on Lymm as the village we wanted to live in, we found that advice at Banners.

Right from the start they listened to our requirements first, understood our position and what was important to us, not just pushing the first property that fell to hand. During our 10 years here we have purchased both the homes we have lived in, and sold our last house before re-location back to the South East, and on every occasion everyone at Banners has been outstanding.

We would strongly recommend Banners to anyone who's buying or selling a home in the area and appreciates an Agent with unrivalled local knowledge that listens to your requirements and offers honest advice. Our only regret is they don't have an office in the South East.

Good luck with the future and thanks for everything.
